The terms and conditions of this Software Licensing Agreement, including those contained in any amendments done in writing made subsequent to this Agreement, and those contained in this Agreement shall constitute this Agreement regarding the use of an evaluation copy of the Scoring Function "DrugScore". In the event of any inconsistency between this Software Licensing Agreement and any non-superseding terms and conditions, the provision of this Software Licensing Agreement shall take precedence. The user identified above receives from the licensor the following software:

Scoring Function "DrugScore", executable for LINUX and IRIX.

The licensee receives the software without any warranty. The licensee guarantees

1. to use the program only for non-commercial, academic purposes, within the research institution named above;
2. to exclude any third party from the use of the software;
3. to exclude any third party from the provision of any results obtained by the software;
4. to cite any usage of DrugScore in publications by taking reference to the original publication in J. Mol. Biol. 2000, 295, 337-356.
